

GIRL'S BLOUSES

$1.00

Just Like Illustration.

We are always first to show the new things in Blouses. The illustration shows a pretty new Balkan Blouse of white drill, band at bottom, collar and cuffs of red and white or blue and striped galatea, mercerized tie to match; sizes 8 to 18 years.

Summer Clearing Sale of Millinery now in progress. First and Second Floors.

Kaufmann & Co.
Corner Fourth and Broad Streets

Social and Personal

A very attractive affair of to-morrow evening is the Misses' party, which will leave Richmond at 8:15 o'clock for a trip down the river. The Blues' Band will furnish music, and informal dancing will be one of the features of the entertainment. All members of the battalion will wear their full dress uniforms. Patronesses for to-morrow evening include Mesdames Mann, Sale, Taylor, Elyson, George, Ainslie, Partello, E. W. Bowles, Dempsey, Tucker, Siegel, Puller, Hicks, James, McGraw, Hewitt, Ernest, Hutchinson and Wyatt.

To Spend Summer in Maine.

Miss and Mrs. Godwin Boykin and small daughter have closed their town house and left last week to spend the summer months at Squirrel Island, Maine. Miss Daisy Boykin accompanied them.

Miss Courtney in Hanover.

Miss Leo Courtney is visiting friends in Hanover, after attending finals at Blacksburg. Before returning home, Miss Courtney will be the guest of friends at Washington and Philadelphia.

Shirtwaist Gown.

Misses Kidwell will give a shirtwaist gown at Lakeside to-morrow evening. Their guests are always popular affairs, and a large number of young people are expected.

Inge-White.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. White was the scene of a very beautiful marriage Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Sara Virginia White, was married to Samuel George Inge, of Kenbridge, by Rev. Carl Moore, of Warrenton, N. C.

The bride's father gave her away, and she was handsomely gowned in a broad mesaline trimmed with shadow lace and pearls. Her veil was fastened with sweet peas, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Olive White, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and was given of blue mesaline trimmed with shadow lace and pearls. The bridesmaids were Misses Inge, of Kenbridge, and Misses Inge, of Kenbridge. The groomsmen were Messrs. Inge, of Kenbridge, and Messrs. Inge, of Kenbridge.

After a song which was beautifully rendered by Miss Evelyn Royter, the bride party entered to the strains of the wedding march, and the ceremony was performed. The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony in an automobile for Norfolk, where they took the train for Richmond, Washington and other points. After returning they will make their home in Kenbridge.

Among the out-of-town people who attended the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Nelson, Mr. John Birdsong, Mrs. Mann and Miss Mary Sue Inge, of Kenbridge; Miss Mary Noell, Goshen, and Clifton and Tom Inge, of Kenbridge.

The Confederate Memorial Literary Society will meet on Wednesday morning.

Dunlop Flour
IT'S MADE IN RICHMOND

The Dunlop Mills Richmond, Va.

The Velvet Kind
Same Quality Every Day.

PURITY ICE BEAM
Monroe 1861.

Shades to Order
at Ryan-Smiths

1000 Point
1000 Point

EAT IT THREE TIMES DAILY.

FATMOR
AT ALL GROCERS.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE
New Method Gas Ranges

— AT —
PETTIT & CO.'S?

DETROIT GAS RANGES.
ALASKA REFRIGERATORS.
OLD HICKORY STOVE.

JURGENS
REINACH, Inc.

107 E. BROAD STREET
MILLINERY—Women's and Misses' Outer Apparel.

Byron Darves, of St. Louis, is the guest of friends here for a few days.

Miss Beatrice Carmichael is spending the summer at "Brick Hill" with her sister, Mrs. Archer Hobson.

Miss Madge Montgomery is visiting Miss Mabel Hemingway, in Norfolk.

Miss Loree Winslow, of Orange, is the guest of Misses Garthright, on West Main Street.

Mrs. James D. Patton and Miss Nannie Patton are at Atlantic City for ten days.

Mrs. Ware R. Gay, of the Chesterfield, is visiting relatives in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Garnett Tabb are spending some time in Wilmington, N. C.

William L. Prince, dean of the Richmond Academy, is spending the summer at Washington and Lee University.

Miss Eloise Gray Robinson, of West Grace Street, is spending some time at Luray.

Miss Mabel E. Edmonds left last week for Fairmont, Va., where she will spend several weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Blanche French Huddleson.

Miss Helen Cox, of Washington, is visiting here.

Cadet-Officer A. R. Holderby, Jr., is at home in Bon Air, to spend his vacation with his parents.

W. B. Allen, of 2007 Monument Avenue, with his wife and daughter, Miss Daisy Louise Allen, will leave to-day for a visit to Quebec, Canada.

SENTENCED AS MURDERER
Rock Island, Ill., June 22.—Clyde Stratton, who escaped from the Federal Prison, at Fort Leavenworth, by going through a sewer, was found guilty of the murder of J. L. Crowder, a banker of Illinois, and punishment was fixed at fourteen years in Joliet Penitentiary by a jury which reported here, after being out forty-two hours.

Stratton was one of three robbers who attacked the banker last December. Stratton was arrested at Pekin, Ill., a few days after getting away from Fort Leavenworth, where he was serving a term for robbing the post-office at McCool, Ind.

WIFE DENIED DIVORCE
Court Holds She Knew of Husband's Misdeeds Prior to Marriage.
Chicago, June 22.—Holding that Mrs. Jessie R. Van Vliessen was cognizant of and profited by her husband's forgeries, a jury in Judge Pettit's court declined to grant her a divorce.

The defendant, Peter Van Vliessen, is serving a term in Joliet Prison for mortgage forgeries aggregating more than half a million dollars. Mrs. Van Vliessen sued on the ground that her husband was a felon, while the principal contention of the defendant was that the Mrs. Van Vliessen, who was the former's stenographer before she married him, knew of his misdeeds before they became man and wife.

PREPARE FOR STATE BANQUET
London, June 22.—Four tons of priceless gold and silver plate, china and glassware are being unpacked at the Grosvenor Hotel, in preparation for the banquet next Wednesday night, when the French President is to entertain the King and Queen during his state visit to London. No fewer than 115 cases were required to bring this valuable property from France, and a large number of French and English detectives watched its passage.

Among the cases were several containing the most valuable vintage from the presidential cellars.

Stops Falling Hair
Hall's Hair Renewer certainly stops falling hair. No doubt about it whatever. You will surely be satisfied.

Dreyfus
"Specialists in Apparel for Women."
Broad at Second.

HAMMOND
"Flowers of Guaranteed Freshness."
Tel. Mad. 630.

Special Desk Offer
We have a limited quantity of 8-foot Standing Desks, in solid oak, at the special price $15.00 net.

Sydnor & Hundley
Seventh and Grace Streets.

Stieff
PIANOS
"Players of the finest made, at makers' prices."

J.B. Mosby & Co.
Women's Summer Gowns at Reduced Prices
See Our 1913 Patterns of GO-CARTS and CARRIAGES.

Rothert & Co.
Fourth and Broad.

Use Pratt's Astral Oil for Incubators.
N. Klein & Son, Inc.
3 East Broad.

Rountree-Sutherland-Cherry Corporation
WE MAKE A SPECIALTY of packing household goods and china for shipment.

Monday Sale of Men's Hot Weather Underwear

Men's 50c Conde's Mesh Underwear; sale price, 35c.
50c Best Balbriggan Underwear, 39c.
50c Jeans Drawers, with knitted insertion, 39c.
39c Poplin Underwear; sale price, 25c.
50c Madras and Cross Bar, vest only; sale price, 25c.

GORDON PORTRAIT TO BE PRESENTED

Interesting Exercises Will Be Held at Lancaster on Third Monday in July.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lancaster, Va., June 22.—The third Monday in July promises to be an interesting occasion for those who shall attend the session of the Circuit Court of Lancaster on that day. The court will be presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

Colonel James Gordon, of Lancaster, was a noble man in his day, being a vestryman of Christ Church, a member of the old county court, and clerk of the court from 1757 to 1794. He was of Scotch-Irish descent, and possessed in a high degree the distinguishing virtues of his race. He was a man of great energy, and a man of great courage. He was a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He was a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He was a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He was a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He was a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He was a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He was a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He was a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He was a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He was a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He was a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He was a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He was a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He was a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He was a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He was a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He was a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He was a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He was a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He was a man of great grace, and a man of great glory. He was a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He was a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He was a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He was a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He was a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He was a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He was a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He was a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He was a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He was a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He was a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He was a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He was a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He was a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He was a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He was a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He was a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He was a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He was a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

The portrait, which was painted by Sir John Smith, of London, and which was presented to the County of Lancaster, through the Circuit Court, a splendid oil portrait of Colonel James Gordon, one of the most distinguished citizens of this county during the latter half of the eighteenth century. The portrait, to be presented by the Rev. James Waddell, of Richmond, and has been pronounced by competent critics to be a genuine work of art.

LORD COMPTON IS IN SERIOUS DILEMMA

Must Get Married and Lose Commission, or Stay Single and Be Sued.

BY LA MARQUISE DE FONTENAY.

LORD COMPTON, hitherto a liege of the Royal Household, and who, through his father's sudden death in Italy, became sixth Marquis of Northampton, will be compelled to resign his commission in the event of his marrying. The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of great honesty. He is a man of great goodness, and a man of great beauty. He is a man of great grace, and a man of great glory.

The Marquis, who is now in London, is in a serious dilemma. He is a man of great ability, and a man of great character. He is a man of great influence, and a man of great reputation. He is a man of great power, and a man of great authority. He is a man of great wisdom, and a man of great knowledge. He is a man of great skill, and a man of great talent. He is a man of great strength, and a man of great endurance. He is a man of great courage, and a man of great valor. He is a man of great honor, and a man of great integrity. He is a man of great loyalty, and a man of great devotion. He is a man of great faith, and a man of great hope. He is a man of great love, and a man of great compassion. He is a man of great kindness, and a man of great gentleness. He is a man of great patience, and a man of great forbearance. He is a man of great humility, and a man of great modesty. He is a man of great simplicity, and a man of great plainness. He is a man of great purity, and a man of great holiness. He is a man of great righteousness, and a man of great justice. He is a man of great truth, and a man of